

CALL FOR PAPERS:

Art History Undergraduate Symposium

Calling all undergraduate Art History students!

You are invited to submit abstracts to the first annual undergraduate symposium, which will take place on Tuesday, April 10th. Please send a 200-300 word summary of your proposed paper, with a title, as well as a resume or CV to arthmentoringprogram@gmail.com by Thursday, March 1st.

Students are highly encouraged to speak with your mentor or a member of the mentoring program about your topic before you submit and to receive assistance throughout the process. The topic you propose should come from a paper or thesis that is currently in progress or has been completed for a previous class. Your presentations will be expected to run 12-15 min in length.

This is an excellent opportunity for undergraduates in our department to learn how to speak about their work and give a paper in a formal, yet welcoming, setting. Please feel free to contact the Mentoring Program with any questions!
